Response to Amendment

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 09/22/2006 has been entered.

This office is in response to the amendment filed on 09/22/2006.

Claims 8-15, 23-44 are pending for examination, claims 1-7 and 16-22, have been canceled, claims 8-15 and 23-30 have been withdrawn for consideration previously; claims 31, 36-38 and 43-44 have been amended. Applicant is reminded to cancel all non-elected claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Art Unit: 2161

Claims 31-44, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

As to claims 31 and 38, the claimed "said request" (line 8 of claim 31 and line 10 of claim 38) is indefinite, because there are more than one requests claimed in these claims. For example, the requests at lines: 2, 5, and 17 of claim 31 and lines: 4, 7 & 19 of claim 38. To expedite the examination of instant invention, the examiner assumes that the claimed "said request" is "the request submitted by any requester".

As to claims 32-37 and 39-44, these claims have the same defects as their base claims, hence are rejected for the same reason.

Because the ambiguous nature of instant invention, the following art rejection is as to the best of the examiner ascertain.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

Claims 31-33, 36-40 and 43-44, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Johnson (U.S. Patent No. 5,721,943).

As to claims 31 and 38, Johnson discloses the claimed features [e.g., Abstract, Fig. 5 and associated texts], comprising:

a requester transmitting to a lock management system a request for a certain lock on a first resource [e.g., Fig(s). 6A-C];

said lock management system denying said request based on a blocking condition [e.g., the rule is locked at step 112, Fig. 6A and other temp lock in effects at step 114, Fig. 6A, the request is denied at step 134, Fig. 6C] that, while in effect, said lock management system does grant a request for a lock on a second resource different than said first resource [e.g., steps: 150, 152, Fig. 7A, 170-176, Fig 7C & 178-184, Fig 7D];

said requester receiving from said lock management system a response that (1) denies said request [e.g., the steps: 122, 124, 126, 128, 134, Fig. 6B]; and (2) includes data that identifies the second resource [e.g., the steps: 128, 130, Fig. 6B] and said requester determining said blocking condition is no longer in effect by performing certain steps that include: (1) said requester transmitting to said lock management a request for a lock on said second resource [e.g., steps; 136, 138, Fig. 6C]; and said requester receiving from said lock management system a response that grants said request for said lock on said second resource [e.g., the steps: 140, 142, 144, Fig. 6C].

As to claims 32 and 39, in addition to the features disclosed in claims 31 and 38 respectively, Johnson further discloses that the second resource is a transaction [e.g., the early notification routine, late notification routine at Record unit 130, Fig. 6B] and the first resource is a resource locked for the transaction [e.g., the lock types requested at 96, Fig. 5].

As to claims 33 and 40, in addition to the features disclosed in claims 32 and 39 respectively, Johnson further discloses that the data that identifies a second resource includes a transaction id identifying the transaction [e.g., the LOCKID, TRXID, INTRXID of Record unit 130, Fig. 6B].

As to claims 36 and 43, in addition to the features disclosed in claims 31 and 38 respectively, Johnson further discloses that when the blocking condition no longer prevents the lock management system from granting a lock on the first resource, said first requester informing the lock management system that blocking condition is no longer in effect [e.g., col. 7, lines 40-50].

As to claims 37 and 44, in addition to the features disclosed in claims 31 and 38 respectively, Johnson further discloses that the first requester informing the lock management system that the blocking condition is no longer effect by making another request for a lock of the first resource, the request including data specifying that the blocking condition is no longer effect [e.g., col. 7, lines 36-52].

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 34-35 and 41-42, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Johnson (U.S. Patent No. 5,721,943) in view of Varma (U.S. Patent No. 6,336,134).

As to claims 34-35 and 41-42, in addition to the features disclosed in claims 31 and 38 respectively, Johnson further discloses that the first resource is a data block [e.g., Fig. 9B]

Johnson did not specifically disclose that the blocking condition is based on the data block undergoing a marking block-split operation.

However, Varma discloses that the claimed blocking condition that based on the data block undergoing a marking block-split operation [e.g., col. 18, lines 44- col. 19, lines 6, Fig. 15 and associated texts].

Johnson and Varma are both in the same endeavor to optimize concurrent shared data processing via data block locking mechanism, thus, with the teachings of Johnson and Varma in front of him or her, it would have been obvious for an ordinary skilled person at the time the invention was made, to apply Varma's marking block-split operation in Johnson's invention, because by doing so, the combined system will provide an upgraded dynamic locking mechanism of data blocks to facilitate concurrent shared data accessing without entering into deadlock.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 31-44 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
